

Modul 1: About myself

Hi, I am Iris. I have been a self-employed English language coach for 6 years and have worked as a human resources specialist in various large companies for many years.

I help my clients to reach the next level of English with fun and ease. And that's exactly how I want to prepare you for an English job interview, so that you go into an interview with fun, confidence and ease.

Thanks to my many years of professional experience, especially in recruitment, I know exactly what is important in a job interview. What recruiters particularly value. I know both sides and can therefore support you optimally in your preparation.

I want to help you get your dream job. Many fail because of preparation, nervousness or because they don't think they can do the job. I want to teach you that you don't have to be afraid of it and that you can achieve everything you want. You just have to believe in it.

A job interview can actually be fun!

You can find an insight into my own career here in the video.
